DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 1, 4-8, 10-11, 14-16, 18-21, 24-29, 31, 34-40 and 43-46 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Jones et al (US 6021397) in view of Doerr et al (US 6473745) and further in view of Lewis (US 6513019).

Re claims 1, 11 and 40: Jones teaches a method of creating financial advice applications, comprising: receiving a request including financial data at a financial advice application, wherein said financial advice application is configured to use said financial data to provide financial planning and advice, wherein said financial data is related to at least one of: financial need, preferred financial strategy and economic class of an entity (col. 3, lines 32-46).

Art Unit: 3691

Jones does not explicitly teach evaluating said request to identify a plurality of distinct financial advice services based on said at least one of: financial need, preferred financial strategy and economic class; compiling data requirement unique to said entity based on at least one of said financial need, said preferred financial strategy and said economic class, wherein said data requirements include format and value properties; compiling a data entry page having fields based on said data requirements; applying to said fields said format and said value properties as metadata to enforce data entry rules; transmitting said financial data to said client computer in the form of financial advice application, wherein said financial advice application is fully executable at said client computer; and scripting requests from said client computer such that a single request creates said financial advice application.

Doerr teaches evaluating said request to identify a plurality of distinct financial advice services based on said at least one of: financial need, preferred financial strategy and economic class; compiling data requirement unique to said entity based on at least one of said financial need, said preferred financial strategy and said economic class; compiling a data entry page having fields based on said data requirements; transmitting said financial data to said client computer in the form of financial advice application, wherein said financial advice application is fully executable at said client computer; and scripting requests from said client computer such that a single request creates said financial advice application (abstract, Fig. 3, col. 2, lines 6-60, col. 4, lines 51-67). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify Jones to include this feature. One would have been motivated to do so in order to render specialized personalized advice to the user.

Art Unit: 3691

Lewis teaches compiling data wherein the data includes format and value properties; applying to said fields said format and said value properties as metadata to enforce data entry rules (col. 2, lines 62-67). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify Jones to include this feature. One would have been motivated to do so in order to process data more easily.

Thus modified Jones hereinafter referred to as "Modified Jones".

Re claim 4: Modified Jones teaches the step wherein said at least one financial advice application includes at least one of leased storage service, a formatting service, library service, repository service, simulator service, an asset allocation service, a business graphics service, a roadmap service, and an equity evaluation service (see Lewis: Figs. 1 and 4; col.4, lines 50 to col. line 48 and col.11, lines 50 to col. line 152).

Re claim 5: Modified Jones teaches the step comprising formatting data transmitted between said financial services and said financial advice application in a standardized data format (Lewis: col. 9, lines 33-51 and lines 50-54 and col. lines 11-21).

Re claims 14 and 43: Modified Jones teaches the step wherein said standardized data format is XML (Lewis: col. 6, lines 1-6; col. 9, lines 37-51 and col. 17, lines 11-54).

Re claim 15: Modified Jones teaches the step comprising a translator communication with said financial advice application, wherein said translator is configured to translate data transmissions between plurality of financial advice services into standardized data format (Lewis: col. 9, lines 33-51; col. 10, lines 50-54 and lines 11-54).

Re claim 16: Modified Jones teaches the step wherein said standardized data format is XML (Lewis: col. 6, lines 1-6; col. 9, lines 37-51 and col. 17, lines 11-54).
